Risks

Guinness Multi-Asset Growth Fund is a multi-asset fund investing primarily in other funds ("Underlying Funds") which themselves may invest in equities, Government Bonds, fixed interest securities (which may include sub-investment grade securities), property and other investments. Investors should be willing and able to assume the risks of equity investing. The value of an investment and the income from it can fall as well as rise as a result of market and currency movement, and you may not get back the amount originally invested. Further details on the risk factors are included in the Fund's documentation, available on our website.

Cumulative Performance

FE fundinfo 31.05.23. Investors should note that fees and expenses are charged to the capital of the Fund. This reduces the return on your investment by an amount equivalent to the Ongoing Charges Figure (OCF). The current OCF for the share class used for the fund performance returns is 2.06%. Returns for share classes with a different OCF will vary accordingly. Transaction costs also apply and are incurred when a fund buys or sells holdings. The performance returns do not reflect any initial charge; any such charge will also reduce the return.

Market Commentary

May was a difficult month for markets with both bond and equity markets falling. The one bright spot was Japan where the TOPIX returned 1% in US$ terms. Strong private consumption and investment saw GDP grow 1.4% in real terms. With inflation rising to 4.1% the optimism is that they are out of the historic deflationary environment.

Within markets, growth, and in particular the IT sector continued their strong performance in 2023. The largest 10 stocks in the S&P 500 have accounted for most of the gains this year given the potential demand in chips and semiconductors fuelled by the growth of Artificial Intelligence (AI).

On the economic front, manufacturing PMIs (Purchasing Managers Indices) are still contracting in developed markets whilst the Services sector continue to enjoy robust expansion driven by unemployment at historic lows and strong wage demand. This has seen inflation remain stubbornly high with the Fed, BoE and ECB continuing their rate hiking cycles. The rhetoric, however, has altered as the central banks strive to conquer inflation. The sentiment is that a more tempered approach with a need to be flexible. As a result, inflation is likely to remain higher than expected at the start of the year pushing back the first rate cut until possibly early 2024. The resilience of inflation lead to a fall in government bond prices with the UK markets suffering the largest falls exasperated by the weakness of sterling versus the dollar.

The US was overshadowed by the Republicans using the debt ceiling negotiations as a political tool risking a potential default. By the end of the month, an agreement had been reached with both houses passing the bill in early June avoiding the potential risk.

The overweight position to cash and underweight position to global REITs contributed to performance in difficult market conditions, with the tech heavy exposure of the Invesco Nasdaq the main stock highlight.

Fund Profile

Investment Objective

The investment objective is to provide capital appreciation over the long term. Returns will be generated through both capital growth and income, with a bias towards developed and liquid capital markets. The risk will be diversified by holding collective investments in a range of asset classes and geographies. The management of the portfolio aims to meet the objective conservatively by taking managed risk through fund selection and asset allocation. The portfolio is based on the Brewin Dolphin International MPS Passive Plus Growth Strategy.

Investment Policy

The Fund is actively managed without reference to a benchmark. The Fund invests in funds in a range of different asset classes.
