Risks

The Fund is a multi-asset fund investing primarily in other funds ("Underlying Funds") which themselves may invest in equities, Government Bonds, fixed interest securities (which may include sub-investment grade securities), property and other investments. Investors should be willing and able to assume the risks of equity investing. The value of an investment and the income from it can fall as well as rise as a result of market and currency movement, and you may not get back the amount originally invested. For full information on the risks, please refer to the Prospectus, Supplement, and KID/KIID for the Fund.

Cumulative Performance

FE fundinfo net of fees to 31.05.26. Investors should note that fees and expenses are charged to the capital of the Fund. This reduces the return on your investment by an amount equivalent to the Ongoing Charges Figure (OCF). The current OCF is 1.83%. Returns for share classes with a different OCF will vary accordingly. Transaction costs also apply and are incurred when a fund buys or sells holdings. The performance returns do not reflect any initial charge; any such charge will also reduce the return.

Fund Profile

Investment Objective

The investment objective is to provide capital appreciation over the long term. Returns will be generated through both capital growth and income, with a bias towards developed and liquid capital markets. The risk will be diversified by holding collective investments in a range of asset classes and geographies. The management of the portfolio aims to meet the objective conservatively by taking managed risk through fund selection and asset allocation. The portfolio is based on the Brewin Dolphin International MPS Passive Plus Growth Strategy.

Investment Policy

The Fund is actively managed without reference to a benchmark. The Fund invests in funds in a range of different asset classes.

If you decide to invest, you will be buying units/shares in the Fund and will not be investing directly in the underlying assets of the Fund.

Market Commentary

Global financial markets remained resilient in May, supported by easing geopolitical tensions and strong corporate earnings. Investor sentiment improved as negotiations between the US and Iran raised hopes of a resolution to the Middle East conflict, reducing fears of prolonged disruption to global energy supplies. Oil prices declined, easing inflation concerns and supporting both equity and bond markets.

Global equities delivered another positive month, with the MSCI World Index rising 4.5%. Growth stocks continued to outperform value stocks, driven largely by enthusiasm for artificial intelligence and its constituents. US equities gained 5.3%, but underperformed both Asia and Emerging markets, which was led by exceptional gains in Korea and Taiwan due to their strong exposure to the AI supply chain.

Regional performance was mixed. European equities rose despite weak economic indicators, as optimism surrounding a potential Middle East agreement outweighed concerns over slowing growth. Japan posted robust gains, supported by stronger-than-expected GDP growth and solid corporate earnings. In contrast, China's economic data remained uneven, with weak retail sales and industrial production offsetting modest inflation and export resilience.

Bond markets experienced heightened volatility as inflation expectations fluctuated with developments in energy markets. Although government bond yields initially rose during the month, they declined as oil prices fell and hopes for geopolitical stability increased. Bond markets closed the month broadly flat.

Commodities weakened overall, primarily because of lower energy and precious metal prices. While inflation remains above central bank targets, policymakers are expected to remain cautious until there is greater clarity regarding energy supply conditions and the durability of lower oil prices.

Looking ahead, the combination of improving geopolitical conditions, resilient corporate earnings, and moderating inflation supports a constructive outlook for markets. However, uncertainty remains, reinforcing the importance of maintaining diversified portfolios across regions and asset classes.
